

MORNING APPEAL.

Sunday.....May 29 1887

COUNSEL BEE AND HONG DI.

Whenever a Chinaman commits a crime on this Coast, that officious meddlesome and buzzing individual known as Counsel Bee, at once comes to the front to protect the criminal. He places his officious action on the ground that the feeling against the Chinese is so pronounced that they cannot get fair play. The history of Chinese crime on this Coast does not bear out this statement.

There are very few instances of Chinese lynching on this Coast and those under circumstances, where white men would have been lynched just as quick. Now in Bee's over-anxiety to defend Hong Di, he has committed himself to a statement that stamps him as either a lying humbug or an accessory to the concealment of the fugitive murderer. When his crime is so atrocious that the murderer's own countrymen refused to aid or harbor him, counsel Bee sends detectives to Chico to get all the facts by which they could possibly aid him.

When Hong Di was arrested he said that he had discovered Weaver, a farm hand, in a compromising position with Mrs. Billiou, that Weaver attempted to kill him and that he shot in self defense, and accidentally killed Mrs. Billiou. The testimony at the inquest shows that he was between Weaver and the woman, and that after killing the mother he chased the children with an axe. He claimed to have fired but two shots but the rifle he dropped had four empty shells. He has been caught in numbers of lies and contradictions, yet Bee claims that every thing he says is true.

Regarding his slander of the dead woman, Bee says that he knew three weeks ago that he had discovered Mrs. Billiou and Weaver en flagrant. Bee either lies for effect or he gets his information through his detectives from the Chinaman. Weaver would not be likely to make such a statement. The woman is dead and no soul knew it but the Chinaman. Therefore it follows that if such a story reached the ears of Bee, the Chinaman told it to his detectives. If they were with the Chinaman long enough to hear his vile story why did they not arrest him and claim the $3,600 reward.

Bee must have claimed a knowledge of this thing to bolster up the idea, that he always tries to convey, that nothing is done by the Chinese without it being known at once, to him. We do not believe that Bee's detectives were necessary to aiding the fugitive murderer to escape—the reward was too high—and it is simply summed down to the simple proposition that Bee is a cheap humbug who will not hesitate to claim previous knowledge of the Chinaman's infamous story, that he may pose for effect. Bee has become a thorough nuisance on this Coast.

Father Scanlan's Charge.
The new Episcopal charge of Father Scanlan includes all of Utah and the counties of Elko, Lander, Eureka, White Pine, Nye and Lincoln, in Nevada. His district will be known as the Vicariate Apostolic of Utah, but his titular Bishopric will be in Laranden, a diocese in Asia, once having a Catholic population, but having since no longer and the See of which has been vacant hitherto. Father Scanlan will be consecrated in St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, June 29th, as Bishop of Laranden, Asia, but his active charge will be as above, Utah and part of Nevada.

—The General Land Office at Washington has approved the selection of 773.72 acres of agricultural land made by the State of Nevada for University purposes under the Acts of Congress of July 4th, 1866, and June 8th, 1868. The selection embraces 49 acres in Ormsby county, 13.72 in Washoe county, and 720 acres in Humboldt county.

—The Truckee Republican has discovered that sawdust is a healthy diet for fish. Only one in a thousand, according to the statistics of that paper, die from eating granulated timber. These deaths are incurred from an over-indulgence in this nutritious article of fish food.

—The Fish Commissioners of California have examined the Truckee river between Von Smith's dam and Verdi, and find the law has been openly violated. They are quite indignant, and propose to straighten the matter out in short order.
